

DETENTION PEN FUGITIVE CAUGHT; BECKER MAN GONE

Negro Tells How He Helped Max Kahn Out of the
"Tin Jail."

SCALES 25-FOOT FENCE.

Police Seek Witness by Whom Whitman Wanted to Expose "System."

Thomas Wise, a large, powerful negro, whose height was the chief factor in making possible the escape of Max Kahn, otherwise Samuel Kramer, from the "Tin Jail," was captured yesterday. A battle between the men and the posse of a hundred who camped on their trail in the hills throughout the night was expected momentarily.

The fugitives in hiding were among the dozen convicts who escaped from the State penitentiary here late yesterday afternoon, after they had overpowered the guards, taken their weapons and fled down the main streets terrorizing the residents of the town. The convicts paused in their dash for freedom when they reached a lively barn situated on a hill, then sped toward the hills before citizens could arm and chase them.

It was the second jailbreaking at the penitentiary within thirty-six hours, and it was said that over thirty prisoners in all got away. Owing to the excitement in Rawlins the number of casualties has not yet been determined.

Antonio Pano, a Mexican, heralded as the leader of the convicts in their break for liberty, was shot to death by Deputy Sheriff Rogers, who saw the Mexican as he started on horseback for the hills, after having slashed Bert Talbert across the face and head with a butcher's knife. Talbert is the owner of the lively barn.

Desperate fighting was reported in the prison between convicts and guards following the outbreak, but reports that several men, both guards and convicts, were killed there are unconfirmed.

Eleven of the twenty convicts who broke out of the penitentiary Saturday afternoon were still at large to-day, and it was believed that those who escaped yesterday have joined forces with their fellows.

Warden Felix Alston, with a posse of citizens and prison guards, was returning to Rawlins after a fruitless search for the convicts who escaped Saturday and he did not know of the second delivery until he reached Rawlins early to-day.

A company of Wyoming State militia under arms ready for service last night was informed to-day from Gov. Carey's office at Cheyenne that it would not be needed. That Governor by telephone gave his sanction to a request made by the Mayor of Rawlins that he be authorized to surround the penitentiary with armed citizens. The line was quickly established.

Bert Dalton, member of the Whitney gang of bandits, who long terrorized Wyoming, was said to have succeeded Antonio Pano as leader of the convicts in the hills.

Henry Richter of First street and Leaning avenue, Bay Side, is in a well to-do, held in connection with the murder of his brother-in-law, Ludwig Beulinski, a Bay Side carpenter. Beulinski's body was found in an alley near his home at Second street and Warburton avenue, a knife wound over the heart, yesterday morning. It was said that Beulinski and Richter always had been unfriendly, the carpenter considering that his sister had married beneath her, so detectives were sent to Richter's house, as he was not at home, and had not been there all night, they were told.

In the afternoon Richter was arrested by Detective Tommy of Brooklyn Headquarters. He was arraigned before Magistrate Fitch and held without bail for further examination on Wednesday.

ESCAPED CONVICTS, ARMED FOR FIGHT, TRAPPED BY POSSE

Criminals Who Got Away in Wyoming Prison Break
Trailed to Hiding Place.

RAWLINS, Wyo., Oct. 14.—Heavily armed, a half dozen or more escaped convicts, all desperate criminals, were said to be trapped in a canyon just south of Rawlins to-day. A battle between the men and the posse of a hundred who camped on their trail in the hills throughout the night was expected momentarily.

The fugitives in hiding were among the dozen convicts who escaped from the State penitentiary here late yesterday afternoon, after they had overpowered the guards, taken their weapons and fled down the main streets terrorizing the residents of the town. YOUTH, 23, WHO NEARLY KILLED A DETECTIVE, GETS 12 YEARS IN JAIL

Tries to Shift Blame to Police,
Saying They "Planted"
Weapons on Him.

It was an unlucky day for George Becker that he stole a belt, holster and revolver from the home of Customs Inspector John J. O'Connor and buckled the warlike equipment around his waist, out of sight. To-day, because of that lamentable circumstance, his "police frameup" defense against a charge of carrying concealed weapons was shattered and he was sentenced to serve twelve years in Sing Sing.

Although there were seven indictments for burglary against him, Becker, who is twenty-three, went on trial before County Judge Dike in Brooklyn for his violation of the Sullivan law, brought to light when he was arrested after having beaten Detective Woodie of the Hamburg avenue station into insensibility last June.

Becker asserted that he, in turn, had been "knocked out," and that malicious policemen had strapped the revolver to his waist while he was unconscious. It seemed to spectators in the courtroom that the defendant was getting far with this contention as the jury were with theirs, until Mr. O'Connor took the stand.

"Between noon and 2 o'clock on the day Woodie was assaulted," he said, "burglars entered my home and carried off considerable property. Part of the loot was the revolver, holster and belt which the police say they found on the defendant."

In the light of the testimony of Detective Fitch, Woodie's partner, this statement settled Becker's chances of going free. Fitch told of the value of the loot made by the Hamburg avenue police to put an end to a series of summer robberies in the Ridgewood section.

Woodie, he said, had recognized Becker, when he saw him in that district, as a man who had been sent to Elmira two years before, and had followed him to No. 123 Halsey street.

It developed that he was rooming there with Fred Leitch, now in trouble with the police, and a boy named Frank Smith. Woodie got permission to search the room while the men were out, and found all sorts of valuable articles scattered around. After that the detectives kept close watch on the house until, one day, the three went out and returned with bundles under their arms. They had been gone during those hours in which the O'Connor home was robbed.

When the men emerged from the house fifteen minutes later, carrying the bundles, Woodie and Fitch followed them to a street car. They demanded to know what was in the bundles and Becker jumped from the car, Woodie after him. In the ensuing battle Woodie was beaten so badly that he has not sufficiently recovered to appear in court to-day.

Twenty Years for Wife Slayer.
William Watkins, young negro who shot and killed his wife after a quarrel on April 24, pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree before Justice Marston in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, to-day, and was sentenced to imprisonment of not less than twenty years. Rufus Perry, the negro lawyer who recently came into the limelight by adopting the Hebbrew faith, appeared for Watkins and persuaded him to change his previous plea of not guilty.

SULTAN REFUSES POWERS' DEMAND; TURKS IN SERVIC

As Ottoman Troops Cross Border and Spread War, Porte
Rejects Macedonian Plan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 14.—The Turkish Government declines to allow the powers to intervene in the question of Macedonian reforms. Its reply to the representatives of the powers was handed to the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador here this forenoon. While thanking the European powers for their friendly interest in the Balkan situation, which the Ottoman Government recognizes they have exercised in behalf of peace, the reply says that Turkey is determined to carry out the promised reforms, but cannot tolerate any foreign interference.

The Bulgarian, Serbian and Greek Ministers here have received instructions from their Governments to be ready to insist as far as they receive notification from their respective capitals. The rupture of diplomatic relations between the three Balkan states and the Ottoman Empire is awaited hourly.

HELGRADE, Serbia, Oct. 14.—A body of Turkish troops crossed the Serbian frontier at Ristovats, near Vranja, at 5 A. M. to-day and attacked the Serbian warship there, according to an official despatch from the Serbian general in command.

SOFIA, Oct. 14.—Fighting between Bulgarian and Turkish frontier guards at Karpalanka was reported to-day. Macedonian rebels against the Sultan's rule, it was stated here to-day, have already occupied Kremna Pass to guard against a Turkish flanking movement against the Bulgarians and Serbians.

PODGORITZA, Montenegro, Oct. 14.—The Montenegrin troops occupied another position still closer to the town of Guinjye yesterday, according to the official report of Gen. Vukobitch, the commander of that division of the Montenegrin army. The Turks, says Gen. Vukobitch, who offered a stubborn resistance, sustained heavy losses both in killed and wounded. The Montenegrins also occupied yesterday two other Turkish positions commanding Guinjye. During the fighting they captured four machine guns, many rifles and a large quantity of ammunition.

The Montenegrin casualties since the outbreak of hostilities totaled up to yesterday morning 264 killed and over 80 wounded. Those more severely injured are being conveyed to Cetinje, as the hospitals here are overcrowded.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 14.—The release within twenty-four hours of the Greek vessels confiscated by Turkey is to be demanded to-day by the Greek Minister at Constantinople under instructions from his Government. In the note which he is to hand to the Turkish Government the payment of an indemnity to the owners of the vessels is also demanded.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Greek note to Turkey demanding the release of the confiscated Greek vessels is in the nature of an ultimatum, which official circles here think it is certain Turkey will promptly refuse to comply with. It therefore means immediate war.

There is no doubt that Turkey knew the seizure of ships before the breaking out of hostilities was an act of war, and according to the most reliable information from Constantinople the Ottoman Government intended this action to be provocative.
